Latest Strike News.

The latest news from Pana and surrounding points is that miners are crowding into the camp by squads, and there is every indication that a forward movement of some kind is contemplated in the very near future. The campers as a rule refuse to be interviewed, but gather in groups and eagerly discuss some question that is of great importance to themselves. The deputies and militia are on the alert.

Later It has just been learned from a reliable source that the point of action has been changed and that the entire force will move on Decatur. The men have heard of Chas. Morgan's great cut sale on gent's clothing, hats, and neckwear and are coming 5 000 strong to take advantage of the very low prices made for the best values ever put on the market

WHY THEY SIGNED.

The Strike Settlement Reached at Columbus, O.,

NOT EVERYTHING THAT WAS DESIRED,

But the Best That Could be Hoped for Under Prevailing Conditions, the Lawlessness of the Strikers Having Destroyed Sympathy.

COLUMBUS, O., June 13.—The circular of the national officers of the United Mine Workers announcing and explaining the settlement with the operators here Monday, was issued to the miners last night. It is a voluminous document of nearly 5,000 words, but much of it is a history of the strike. The most interesting part of the circular is the close—a peroration, as it were, as follows.

FELLOW MINERS In thus terminating the grandest effort of combined labor that was ever engaged in by any body of men at any time we know that you are disappointed and assure you that we share your disappointment We believe in the efficacy of general suspension and have for years earnestly and honestly advocated it as the miners' only hope When on the 21st of April 125,000 men quietly refused to work you with us shared the exhilirating hope that in a few days or weeks at the most our battle would be fought and victory won, and as the miners all over country joined our ranks and industry began to feel the paralysis resulting from our inaction our hope gave place to certainty and a buoyancy of spirits worthy of a cause so noble characterized our efforts

Our struggle has, contrary to all expectations, continued until the eighth week has been reached, and conditions so changed that in our judgment make a settlement necessary, and under the circumstances the very best that could be secured at this time, and better than could be gained if the conference had adjourned without an agreement To this circular explaining the facts surrounding this question we invite your serious consideration, and ask that you will not act hastily or unadvisedly We assure you that we did not enter into this agreement because it was pleasing or even satisfactory to us, but because we seriously believed that better could not be got, no matter how long the struggle continued

We feel that much has been gained by this effort which could not have been secured by any other method We earnestly advise that you accept the conditions and resume work on June 18, as provided in the contract We are so confident of the correctness of our position in signing and advising the acceptance of this contract, that on its acceptance or rejection by you we stake our reputation as your servants and our further continuance in official position

In recounting the strike, special attention is called to the convention and conference at Cleveland, May 14 and 15, when, after failing to reach an agreement, the miners adopted a resolution placing the whole question in the hands of a committee consisting of the national officers and the district vice-president. The circular then quotes from the resolution declaring the strike, which was adopted at the national convention here in April, and special attention is called to the clause which declares it to be the intention to refrain from violating the law, and pledging the members everywhere to active co-operation in the enforcement of law and order The circular then proceeds:

As long as the miners engaged in the suspension observed this policy of peace and order there was no doubt of their ultimate triumph There has been at no time, nor can there be any reason for setting law and the authorities at defiance and indulging in violent demonstrations to redress imaginary wrongs That violence has been committed and law in other ways disregarded, there can be no doubt but that our men have been so outrageously lawless as press reports indicate we deny Any violation of law, however small, supplemented by the maliciously-exaggerated press reports proved sufficient to change and turn against us a public opinion never too friendly toward the laboring men when in conflict with corporate greed Your president recognizing these facts and being powerless to enforce discipline in our ranks, believing that the danger point had been reached and being unwilling to assume or bear the responsibility for acts over which he had no control, called a meeting of the national strike committee in accordance with the instructions of the last national convention

Here follows the resolution adopted by that committee, arranging for the district meetings held last Saturday. The circular further states that at the meeting a resolution was adopted unanimously that in this district, rather than risk defeat and disaster, the minimum price of sixty-nine cents for Pittsburgh field and the same relative price for Indiana and Illinois be accepted.

The making of this agreement is in line with the decision of the national committee and, in the judgment of the members of that committee in keeping with our best interests At the time our national committee met to canvass the situation the members realized that we had reached the critical and turning point in the fight and that we must chose between defeat and demoralization, and a compromise settlement Our seemingly extreme position not to mine coal at any price or for any purpose, though justified by our wants and your interests was turning against us the railroad manufacturing and other coal-consuming forces, and in nearly every large city operators were tendered their co-operation financially and otherwise to assist in operating the mines with new men, and considering the number of idle men. It was only too evident that the threats of many of the larger operators to operate the mines within the next week would with the assistance of every lawful and unlawful Winchester in the country and with the prostrate and mutilated corpses of our fellow-craftsmen and the unjust incarceration of many others become, alas! but too well fulfilled

JUDGE TAFT TAKES A HAND

And the Rioters at Wheeling Creek Will Have to Hunt Their Holes.

CINCINNATI, June 12.—This morning United States Marshal Henry Bohl was hastily summoned from Columbus and held a long conference with Judge Taft, who is at the United States court of appeals, the highest authority next the United States supreme court. After Marshal Bohl returned to his [illegible] he began swearing in sixty-five deputy marshals who left to-night for Wheeling Creek, O., the scene of action. These marshals are picked men and can be relied upon. They went heavily armed and will follow out the instructions of Judge Taft to arrest every man who attempts to in any manner interfere with the operation of cars that are hauling coal from the mines or blockade, obstruct or in any manner hinder trains passing through their territory

The news of Judge Taft's firm and determined stand spread like wildfire, and Marshal Bohl's office was soon the scene of great activity. Many volunteers called to see him, among whom were a number of practical railroad men who fully understand the running of engines and the handling of cars.

Marshal Bohl went to Columbus at 8 o'clock to-night, and from 9:30 to 11 p. m. will swear in a large additional force, and the whole body will make haste to reach Wheeling Creek, near Bellaire, where the latest depredations and trouble have occurred.

TWO VIEWS OF IT.

The Miners of Sullivan County Pleased with the Terms of Settlement.

FARMERSBURG, Ind., June 13.—It is now believed that by to-morrow at the latest all the miners at Sullivan, where the struggle has been most fierce, will be in operation. The miners of this city returned to work yesterday morning on account of the settlement at Columbus. The miners at Shelburn, where there has been much trouble, go to work this morning. The mines at Alum, Jackson Hill, Hickmore and Curryville are also in operation. All the miners in Sullivan county are pleased with the terms of the settlement.

Will Not Stand By It.

WHEELING CREEK, O., June 12.—The miners here are very angry about the result of the compromise settlement and reiterate their declaration that they will not stand by it.

At 9:30 o'clock Gen. Howe received a telegram from Col. Darrow, in command at Canal Dover, stating that an attack was certain and calling for immediate reinforcements and gatling guns. Company C and battery H at Midvale were immediately sent to reinforce Col. Darrow. Firing is in progress at Canal Dover, but the effect is not known here. Col. Rodgers has telegraphed Gov. McKinley that the attack to-night is the result of a meeting of the miners held this afternoon about five miles from Canal Dover at which 600 miners were present.

Preparing to Resume.

PEORIA, Ill., June 12.—Four score deputy sheriffs left this city to-day to guard the mines where the men are ready to return to work. The Kingston mine was in operation again to-day

Notice was served to-day on the strikers at Edwards station to vacate the company houses or return to work. It is expected that this mine will be in operation to-morrow

The mine owners at Wessley are arranging to resume with their old men The Columbus settlement is not viewed with satisfaction here.

Only Expressions of Indignation are Heard.

STREATOR, Ill., June 13.—Only expressions of indignation are heard among the miners of the Streator district in regard to the terms of settlement made at Columbus. They say they went into the fight to maintain last year's wages, and are now expected to accept a reduction. A convention of the miners will probably be held against acceptance.

JERRY'S BOND IS READY.

Mr. Donahue Required to Get Sureties for $26,000 —The Deputy.

In the mail from Washington City last evening Jerry Donahue, recently appointed postmaster, received an official document from Postmaster General Bissell. It was in a long envelope and was the necessary blank for the P. M.'s official bond. The amount required was $26,000, and to-day Mr. Donahue readily secured sureties, representing in wealth many times $26,000. The bond, properly made out, will start on its journey to Washington to-night, and ere long the commission wil arrive. It is the purpose of Mr. Donahue to take possession of the office on July 1.

Charles W. Montgomery will be the assistant postmaster, and will draw a salary of $1500, while Jerry will scoop in $3000 a year.

Bad Luck.

Fred Wilson, the horse buyer from Macon, Ill., left to-day for Ivesdale in response to a telegram announcing that the car in which he shipped a load of horses last night had caught fire and burned at that point. In the car were 21 head of fine horses for the eastern market, and he did not know whether many were injured or not. The car is supposed to have caught fire from the sparks from the engine. The car door was opened and the horses jumped out. One horse by the jump broke a leg and was killed by the attendant. The remainder of the horses were more or less hurt it is thought by Mr. Wilson by the jump and the fire. The carload was valued at $2100. R. H. Woodcock accompanied Mr. Wilson to Ivesdale.

Ten Were Drawn.

This forenoon Deputy Circuit Clerk McClellan, by order of Judge Vail, drew ten extra jurymen to serve during the first and second weeks of court, Frank I. Davis and S. W. Hamsher, of Decatur; Samuel Adams, of Macon; August Stein, of Maroa; J. W. Logan, Long Creek; Henry Barger, Maroa; Thomas Lee, Friends Creek; C. H. Arnold, Milam; Carroll Eckhardt, Blue Mound; C. W. Hadden, Oakley. The jurymen will be served with notice by the sheriff at once.

Warm and Getting Dry.

The general lassitude in business is not lessened in the least by the excessively warm weather. Those whose business it is to sell cool drinks, hammocks or light clothing express satisfaction, but most others would welcome a change. The farmers, who have hitherto been the most cheerful class in the country, are just a shade dispirited by the dry weather. Many of them have stopped plowing corn temporarily on this account.

The Fruits Now in Market.

Strawberries have seen their best days for this season and are not now nearly so plentiful as they were last week or week before. Michigan berries are being shipped in and always come sixteen boxes to the case, while the home-grown and the southern fruit come twenty-four in a case. Black raspberries are getting more plentiful, and yesterday retailed at 20c per quart. This is the height of the cherry season and this week is expected to nearly wind up the crop of early cherries.

Will Resume.

It is now pretty well settled that the coal miners' strike is in a fair way to be settled in the very near future. According to the scale arranged at Columbus, the men have gained nothing, in fact in some fields the men will resume at less rates than they were receiving before the strike. This fact has raised a strong feeling among the men in the Ohio fields and they declare they will not be bound by the agreement, but will continue the fight on their own hook. Of course this will mean defeat in the end, and the final outcome will be bad. The only rift of light in the situation seems to be in the great cut sale of clothing, furnishing goods, etc., which Chas. E. Morgan is conducting at 118 Merchant street. Goods, the best known to the trade are going at half price or less.

The Latest Dynamo Invention.

The largest arc lighting dynamo in the world has just been completed and tested at the Fort Wayne Electric Company's works. It is the latest invention of Supt. Woods. This dynamo is an entirely new departure on all apparatus heretofore constructed for a like purpose. It produces 150 arc lights at the exceeding low speed of 500 revolutions per minute, and is absolutely automatic in its operation, as any number of lights, down to nothing, can be turned on or off at will, the power consumed being only in proportion to the number of lamps burning. This dynamo was designed to meet the requirements of the Detroit lighting commission's specifications, but it exceeds their requirements in all important features, and, as Mr. Wood puts it, it is an arc light machine several years in advance of the times.—Fort Wayne Press.

THE hot weather and the tariff reform seem to be too much for the president and his health is precarious.

GEO. PEABODY WETMORE has been elected United States senator from Rhode Island to succeed N. F. DIXON.

THE courts and the attorneys have become so confused in the Prendergast case that the fellow is liable to be hung by accident.

THE weather in this country is very peculiar at this time. While the president is prostrated by heat in Washington, his party is snowed under in the Quincy judicial district and in Oregon.

THERE are some indications that W. C. P. Breckenridge may be induced by his relatives to abandon the contest for a return to Congress. They don't seem to relish the notoriety the situation is giving the family.

THE scripture, "The hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies and the waters shall overflow the hiding places," has never since the days of Israel's apostacy been so literally fulfilled as it has been in the case of the party now in power.

THE Springfield Evening Telegram suggests that the best thing the Democrats could do in their state convention would be to insert a plank in favor of abolishing the house of lords—the United States senate. We would suggest that before the Democrats attempt anything of this kind they had better carry out some of their former platform declarations. At present it strikes the average citizen that a Democratic platform declaration don't amount to much.

The Senatorship.

The delegates to the Republican senatorial convention for this district, for Macon county, have been appointed. The convention has not yet been called pending the decision of the apportionment case, in the supreme court. As soon as the court gives its decision the senatorial convention will be called for the district in which that decision shall leave Macon county.

Should the court refuse to disturb the present apportionment act, the district will be Macon, Moultrie and Christian counties. Should the court declare the act of 1893 unconstitutional, then the district will consist of Macon and Logan counties. But in case the court should decide both the apportionment acts of 1892 and 1893 unconstitutional, as prayed for in the case brought by so-called populists from southern Illinois, then the district would be Macon and DeWitt counties.

Should the present districting remain. Moultrie and Christian counties would be conceded each a candidate for the house of representatives, and Macon county would be conceded the senatorial nomination; and in case the old district should remain, then the chances are that Macon would get the nominee for senator and one member of the house. In any event, therefore, Macon county will have the senatorial nominee.

The names mentioned in this connection, so far, are D. P. Keller, A. H. Mills, Capt. Kanan, A. H. Sutton, J. M. Clokey and T. N. Leavitt. So far as these gentlemen, themselves, are concerned, it is but fair to say that none of them is a candidate in the sense of seeking to secure the nomination, but each assumes the attitude that if it is the deliberate and unbiased judgment of the delegates that his nomination will be to the advantage of the party he will consent to make the race.

This will strike every reasonable man, who holds the success of the party at the polls paramount to every other consideration, as the proper position for those gentlemen to occupy under the circumstances.

The present district on its face is Democratic. The chances that with a proper candidate the Republicans will carry the district are good, and it is the desire of every Republican who prefers party success above every sordid desire to satisfy his narrow likes and dislikes, that the delegates for this county, upon whom the responsibility of selecting a candidate for the party vests, shall make the most judicious selections they can. In order to do this it will be necessary to weigh carefully the points of availability of every candidate, keeping in view at all times the fact that no matter how fair the chances for electing a Republican senator from this district are, the selection of a candidate for the Senate will have much to do in either strengthening or weakening the chances. It should also be remembered that a strong candidate for the Senate and for Congress will help the party in other directions.

Women Cannot Be University Trustees.

In response to a request for a legal opinion on the question, "Can women vote for or hold the office of trustee of the University of Illinois?" Solon Philbrick, of the law firm of Gere & Philbrick, of Champaign has made a critical examination of the law bearing on the subject. He says the two court decisions usually referred to on this question have no bearing whatever; the one merely deciding that women can not vote for superintendent of schools, and the other that they can vote for all the officers of public schools except county and state superintendents. The opinion finds that women can not hold office in general under the common law and that the statutes of this state do not authorize them to hold office in general. The act of July 1, 1891, which makes them "eligible to any office under the general or special school laws of the state," he holds does not render them eligible to vote for or hold the office of trustee of the University of Illinois, because the general and special school laws of the state are not applicable to the university, the acts in relation to the university being separate and distinct from the common school law and no part thereof. His conclusion is that "the University of Illinois can no more be said to belong to the public school system of this state than could any other educational institution incorporated by the legislature.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Condition of Crops.

The temperature of the past seven days has been below the normal throughout the state. Frosts occurred on the 6th and 7th, which damaged gardens somewhat, and corn and other field crops slightly. Ice formed in many localities on the morning of the 6th. The percentage of sunshine was in excess of a seasonable amount. Like the preceding week, except in a few sections where light showers occurred, there was an entire absence of rain. A good soaking rain would greatly benefit all vegetation. Corn is still reported generally in good condition, unusually free from weeds, well cultivated and the color and stand good. In some localities it is laid by. The growth of this crop, however, has been greatly retarded by the cool nights. Wheat appears to be holding its own—it is reported generally in fine condition and ripening fast. Harvesting will begin in many of the Central and southern counties, in from 10 to 15 days. Chinch bugs are beginning to injure the wheat in some counties. The Hamilton county correspondent says, that some fields in the northern part of the county have been totally ruined by the fly. In the vicinity of Freeport, the chinch bugs are injuring the barley. Oats in some sections are heading, low and thin, and being cut short by the drouth. Potatoes and gardens are being injuriously affected by the continued drouth. Clover is now being cut in some of the central and southern counties, but the reports indicate that the crop will be light. Stock water is getting scarce in many sections. Meadows are drying up, and pastures are reported short. There has been but slight change reported in the condition of fruit since last week. Cherries appear to be plentiful in some of the northern counties. Locusts have done but little damage to vegetation as yet.

"Genevieve."

Owing to the intense heat or from some other cause, the "Genevieve" operetta, produced two nights at the Grand for the benefit of the High School library, was not the financial success the enterprise deserved. It was a praiseworthy production for a worthy object, and should have netted a handsome sum. The total receipts were about $300, and the expenses will be $200 or more, so that the library proceeds will be between $50 and $100. The performance last night went smoothly and the marks of appreciation were frequent and enthusiastic. There were nearly 100 children in the operetta. Prof. Westhoff directed them effectively, and Harry Stanley's services were indispensable in handling the children on the stage. All were beautiful in their pretty costumes and formed striking pictures on the stage. The principals did their work in a capital style last night and added to the laurels earned Monday night.

Heard on the Street Car.

"I do wonder what has come over old Jake Brown. He has by some hook or crook got hold of quite a passable suit of clothes and is coming to church."

"Yes, I have noticed him. He takes a front seat and seems to be putting on airs. Why, he even has a big bouquet stuck bunglingly in the button hole of his coat. Would you believe it, when I met him on the street to-day, the old fool lifted his hat and smiled at me. I felt like slapping him in the face. They do say that his wife's best dress is made of five-cent calico."

"I wonder what makes the wealthy Mr. Campbell come to church so shabbily dressed. He seems to have no style about him. In society he is a perfect chump, when you bow to him he only grunts."

Holt at Boody.

C. J. Holt returned this morning from Boody, where he opened the prohibition campaign last night with an enthusiastic speech, at the close of which all voted he should return at a later date. The music was led by J. H. Sleeter. The delegates named for the county convention, the 19th, are Fred. Nientker, John H. Sleeter and Frank Ward. To night Rev. Stevenson of Maroa, and Rev. Berkstresser will speak at Forsyth.

Dr. Geo F. Hall addressed a large audience at Niantic last night, and was given an enthusiastic reception. Geo W. Jones, who accompanied Mr. Hall, returned this morning. Delegates to the county convention are as follows: C. A. Hall, Rev. Lacock, Hilleary Beall; alternates: Elias Ford, Chas. Pritchett, George Stahl.

A Young Girl in Jail.

Miss Alice Crane, a domestic who has been in the employ of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Kennelly at 828 North Monroe street, was arrested last evening and lodged in the county jail on a charge of larceny. Among the articles stolen were a ring, a rhinestone diamond, a collection of coins, a parasol and a tobacco box. The collection of coins included a $2.50 gold piece, four half dollars of considerable value, and several dimes. The girl restored the ring. She was arrested by Officer Lord at the home of a friend and taken to the Kennelly residence. There she seemed to find the rhinestone on the floor. She said two of the half dollars had been exchanged at Crum's drug store for a silver dollar, but that she did not know where anything else was.

Fish Story Exploded.

Truth crush to earth will rise again, but a fish story wounded writhes in pain and dies amid its worshipers. The above couplet was suggested to the REPUBLICAN reporter by a remarkable fish anecdote which appeared in one of the morning papers. According to the story there related Mr. Steinbach, while on an angling expedition, encountered a monarch of the deep, and after a desperate struggle in which he pulled up stumps and young saplings and injured the gable of his trousers, succeeded in landing the monster, which when dressed tipped the scales at something less than 100 pounds. Now, here is where the jumping gazelle bounds over the fence. Geo. Weaver and Geo. Goodpasture, two renowned fishermen from Long Creek, and whose reputation for veracity cannot be impeached by any amateur angler, come into court and affirm and declare that they caught the aforesaid fish without much trouble and sold the same to Mr. Steinbach for $1.75, good and lawful coin of the realm. The gentlemen further aver that Mr S. did not commit havoc with the growing timber as reported, and that the only object caught while getting the fish into his possession was the handle of the cash drawer, and thus another fond delusion is dispelled.

A Correction

In the Sunday's Herald Despatch appeared an item stating that the Decatur Leader Mfg Co had shut down on account of scarcity of coal and was working only the tile hands. The facts are they have been anticipating the present shortage of fuel and made up a week's supply of machined work and are now engaged in putting this work together, laying off the machine hands only for a short period. This plan will be pursued while the situation is unchanged. The brick makers generally over the country are short of fuel and are slow about placing orders for machinery. As soon as an abundance of fuel is assured they will renew their orders and expect prompt shipment. For this reason they desire to have a good stock of machines on hand.

Made the Blind to See.

Prof G. D. Edmondson, the celebrated optician at the Hotel Brunswick, opposite the Opera house, has fitted another most wonderful case. Mr E V Schaick, residing at Grayville, White county, Ill., was born blind, he had never seen a letter. He did not know one when he saw it, until he had traced its shape with his fingers and judged it by the raised letters he was accustomed to read with his fingers. It is not necessary to say he was delighted. In one hour he had learned nearly all his letters, so he could call them without tracing. Edmondson leaves next Saturday night for his summer vacation in the north during July and August. 11 d3 w1

High Praise For the Landlord.

Two well dressed strangers came to the Virginia hotel four days ago and registered from Louisville. They left yesterday, leaving their bill of $17 unpaid, and the following note:

"Man's inability to successfully portray his thoughts, his mental powers being incapable to correctly define his meaning, is why I will not endeavor to burden you with an attempt at expressing my thanks for your treatment so gentlemanly, etc., during my stay. Extend to your menials also my thanks. May your shadow never grow less, and may continued prosperity shine in unclouded warm rays on your benevolent head."—Staunton (Va.) Dispatch.

The Khedive's Favor.

It is well to be on good terms with the khedive of Egypt. This young monarch has lately presented a beautiful bracelet to a young English woman who took his fancy, the value of which is beyond calculation. It is gold set with scarabei, and each stone is upward of 4,000 years old. Some of these belonged to high priests in the days of the pharaohs, and the inscriptions on them relate to magic.—Alexandria Letter.

DECATUR MINERS TO MEET

Nobody Can Tell in Advance What They Will Do—None at Work Yet.

Declaration by President Crawford—He Says the Fight Will Continue—Trouble Feared at Pana.

The strike is still on in Decatur. The Columbus agreement did not settle the trouble in Central and Southern Illinois, and the new scale seems to be objectionable at various other points in the country, as will be seen by reference to the press telegrams in another column. Some of the Illinois strikers say they have been sold out by the Pennsylvania interests, and they declare that they will keep up the strike in the west until they gain their point.

WHAT CRAWFORD SAID.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12.—A representative of the Associated Press interviewed State President Crawford this afternoon in regard to the Columbus settlement of the coal strike. He stated that he had received no official information as to the announced agreement but, if the report as published in the newspapers this morning is correct, the Springfield and southern Illinois miners will not accept it.

The only communication President Crawford received from national headquarters to day instructed him to call a convention of the miners of districts 4, 5 and 6, and he immediately issued a call for the convention to meet in this city, Saturday, the 16th inst.

Charles Ridgely, president of the Consolidated Coal Company, was also interviewed. "McBride found last Saturday at East St. Louis," said Ridgely, "that every operator in central and southern Illinois was solid against him and hopelessly so; and, having settled at Columbus, he will be compelled to let the miners of these sections settle for themselves with their old employers. And they will do this, whether or no, in case he does not allow it. Indeed," continued Ridgely, "individual settlements are in progress at a large number of places."

IN DECATUR.

The Decatur miners are subject to the orders of the strike officials at Springfield and other points. If the strike is prolonged where there are grievances, the sympathy strikers in Decatur will have to stay out and continue to live on short rations. Thursday night the Decatur miners will hold a conference meeting, when they may decide what they will do. None have offered to resume work. Many of the men think it is about time to quit idling away the working hours, but if President Crawford gives the word to stay out of the mines the chances are they will obey.

PANA IN A PANIC.

[SPECIAL TO THE REPUBLICAN.]

PANA, June 13.—Pana experienced another panic spasm last night, and over half the population was awake until an early hour this morning. The story got out that the mob at Pope's Grove had been increased from 150 to 500 by recruits from Springfield, and that they had entered into a plot to burn the town and destroy the Penwell mine. Citizens with guns assembled in the city hall, ready to march out in a body to make war on the expected invaders, the guards were doubled at the mines and couriers on horseback were vigilant until dawn. The Penwell mine was guarded by 40 deputy sheriffs and patrols were stationed under the trees in the southwest part of the city beyond the Penwell mine, for the state's attorney of Christian county had an affidavit in his possession which gave the startling information that sometime between midnight and morning several buildings would be fired in that part of town. The man who signed the affidavit further swore that the strikers in the plot intended attacking the Penwell shaft during the confusion and alarm caused by the fire and destroy it. This sworn statement was given to the state's attorney and soon after the call for the reserves, as the citizen guards are called, was sent out. At 11 o'clock a gang, evidently under the dual influence of liquor and excitement, gathered in the southwest part of the city singing and shouting. Policemen went from house to house notifying the people that if the alarm of fire was sounded they must keep within their houses. Mounted patrols were sent out toward the camp of the Springfield miners to watch them, for a report came in that the invaders were moving on the town and had reached the water works. Half a dozen rifle shots were heard north of the town just before midnight, and the mounted patrols galloped in that direction but found nothing. To-day it is the old story again—more uncertainty and suspense—but the citizens are on the alert, prepared for the worst. The mob at the grove has not come toward Pana yet. There are less than 200 men at work in the mines to-day, but it is expected that more will go down to-morrow.

The General Feeling.

At Kewanee the miners condemn the work of the Columbus conference and say they will not go to work at the 10 cents reduction. President McBride is roundly abused, many accusing him of selling them out.

At Streator it is more than probable it will be decided to remain out rather than accept the terms. A leading operator expresses the opinion that the men will stay out until it is too late to make contracts, and that the entire northern coal fields of Illinois will be idle all summer at least.

At Centralia the miners met yesterday. It was determined to fix the rate at 62½ cents, a uniform winter and summer rate. This is 6½ cents more than they were receiving before they went out and the operators declare they will not return them at better rates than prevailed before the strike.

At Bloomington the Stevenson miners will be satisfied with the new scale if they can get full time.

At Danville the rates are not affected. Shouse, the delegate to the last St. Louis conference, said in his opinion the strike would not be settled this summer. The operators, however, speak hopefully of the outlook.

At LaSalle the miners do not take kindly to the scale of prices agreed on at Columbus. They claim the new price for LaSalle is equivalent to a 10 cent reduction and declare they will not accept it.

At Peoria the miners at two mines are at work under protection of deputies.

It is stated that work will be resumed at once in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana

Serious Trouble Expected.

CARLINVILLE, Ill., June 13.—A local train on the Big Four road at Clyde, near this city, was seized by a mob of 100 striking miners yesterday. They forced the engineer to sidetrack the cars of coal and move his engine on.

Sheriff O'Neill has gone to the scene with a posse and serious trouble is expected.

THE NEW LAKE

In Forest Park, St. Louis, Formally Accepted by the City.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—The new lake in Forest park has been turned over to the city and formally accepted so far as the citizens' committee is concerned. There were present Dr. S. J. Niccolls Dr. Thomas O'Reilly and Mr. Henry C. Haarstick, of the citizens' committee, and Messrs. Robert E. McMath, M. L. Holman and John P. Fechter of the city commission. Mayor Walbridge, who is also a member of the city commission, was absent from the city.

Dr. Niccolls made a report, in which he stated that the lake was completed according to the plans and specifications; that more than $33,500 had been expended, and of that sum $20,000 had been paid in by the Lindell Railway Co. under its compulsory ordinance.

CLUBS WERE TRUMPS.

A Knock-Down Argument Wins in a Democratic County Convention.

PORT HURON, Mich., June 14.—At the democratic county convention yesterday administration and antiadministration democrats experienced difficulty in choosing a temporary chairman. William Stewart, chairman of the county committee, refused to give the place to Richard Strout, a Whiting democrat of the anti stripe.

Stewart was knocked down, had both eyes blackened, and half a dozen of his followers who were defending him were also knocked down and dragged out of the arena. The Whiting men came out on top and elected all their delegates to the state convention. Resolutions were adopted instructing the delegates to vote solidly for Whiting. The anti-Whiting delegates threaten to hold another convention.

JUMPED FROM A BRIDGE.

Suicide of an Old Man Suspected of Wife-Murder.

DEFIANCE, O., June 13.—Christian Miller, the old German who was charged with having attempted to murder his aged wife last Wednesday by beating her over the head with an ax, was found dead yesterday morning in an unexpected manner. Pedestrians who crossed the Auglaize bridge saw a curious object in the river below, which, upon examination, proved to be the remains of the old man. Miller is believed to have jumped from the railroad bridge. He had a number of heavy iron weights tied around his waist. Mrs Miller is still in a critical condition and will probably die.

MOROCCO'S SULTAN.

The Dead Ruler's Choice for the Position

MAY ENCOUNTER SOME OPPOSITION

Before He is Firmly Seated on His Father's Throne—His Uncle, Muley Ismael, May Cause Trouble—Other Nations Interested.

LONDON, June 13.—A Tangier dispatch to the Times says: A steamer from along the coast has arrived here and reports that all was quiet at the various places at which she stopped. Abdul Aziz has been acknowledged as sultan and is collecting forces at Rabat to go to Fez. Little or no opposition to his succession to the throne is expected there. Everyone is preparing for the great religious festival to-morrow. Europeans continue to enjoy absolute security as to life and property.

A news agency dispatch reports that "according to the certificate of the doctors who attended him the cause of the Sultan's death was dysentery. He was conscious to the last, and expressed the desire that Abdulla Aziz should succeed him. The ministers and officers of the army have sworn allegiance to Abdulla Aziz, who is staying at Rabat. The troops at Casabianca have accepted the new soveign, but the allegiance of the troops at Rabat is doubtful.

Will Have to Defend His Throne with His Sword.

LONDON, June 13.—The news of the sending of a French fleet to Morocco and of the preparations making to reinforce it, if necessary, is attracting considerable attention here. News from Morocco is far from reassuring, and civil war there is anticipated. Conflicting reports are still in circulation in regard to the death of the sultan of Morocco, and the popular opinion is that Sultan Abdul Azazi will have to defend his throne with the sword.

Another Richmond in the Field.

TANGIER, June 13.—The body of the late Sultan Muley Hassan has been sent, under military escort, to Rabat for burial. The succession of his younger son, Abdul Azazi, has been accepted at Casabianca, but a hostile feeling prevails at Fez, where Muley Ismael, a brother of the dead sultan, has been acting as the sultan. Ismael is a popular favorite and may make trouble. The Spanish cruiser Conde Venito has arrived here.

CONGRESSMAN BLAND'S SON,

Dangerously Ill at a Hospital, Visited by His Father.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Hon. R. P. Bland arrived in the city Monday evening, having been called here by the serious illness of his 15-year-old son, Theodore. The young man has been attending Christian Brothers' college during the last two years. He was stricken down with typhoid fever ten days ago and sent to the Mullanphy hospital. His condition was serious enough to fill his father with great anxiety, and he left Washington Sunday, arriving here on an evening train and stopping at the Laclede. He spent the entire forenoon yesterday at his son's bedside. The young man is thought to be better now, but his condition is still serious.

A Princely Gift.

THE PRESIDENT SICK.

It is Only a Slight Stomach Disorder,

BUT IT DOESN'T YIELD TO TREATMENT,

And is Seriously Aggravated by the Prevailing Warm Weather—A Prisoner in the Hands of Dr. O'Reilly—All Work Prohibited.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The excessively hot weather has aggravated the slight stomach disorder with which the president has been annoyed from time to time during the past three weeks until to-day, by the advice of Surgeon O'Reilly, of the army, the president denied himself to all visiters except to the members of his cabinet.

The president was first affected immediately after attending the Decoration day ceremonies at Arlington. Secretary Gresham, who was with him at the time, being similarly attacked. The complaint in each case responded readily to simple remedies, but the day after Mrs. Cleveland went away last week, the president had a recurrence of the trouble, and was compelled several days ago to call in Dr. O'Reilly, as he expected to go down the river on Friday afternoon for another cruise on a lighthouse tender. The doctor advised him not to go until the disorder was entirely checked, and since that time, though the president's health has grown no worse, the prevailing high temperature has been very debilitating, and the doctor has now insisted upon the temporary abandonment of the enormous amount of tedious detail work with which Mr. Cleveland is always busied, and until he is perfectly well the patient, under the doctor's orders, must deny himself to the numerous visitors who absorb a large part of his time, frequently upon the most trivial matters.

Dr. O'Reilly has not seen his patient more than once a day, and says there is no occasion to call oftener, and there is no doubt that the present treatment is proving efficacious.

Unless the president is much improved during the next few days, however, it is very likely that he will go away from Washington on a brief visit to Gray Gables in order to recuperate, and it is thought that in such an event he will make use of the dispatch boat Dolphin, which now lies at the navy yard ready to sail at a few hours' notice.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—If any progress was made to-day in the direction of a final vote on the tariff bill, it must have been in private consultations such as those which yesterday removed all obstructions from the path of the cotton schedule. In the public open session there was not a step of progress made. During the greater part of the day, the seats of senators were mostly vacant, the chamber presented a deserted appearance, there were only a few listless spectators in the galleries, the atmosphere was oppressively hot and stifling and no one made a pretence even of taking the least interest in any of the half dozen bills read to the senate. It was, on the whole, the most tedious, wearisome day that has passed since the tariff bill was taken up in the senate ten weeks ago

Before the wool schedule was entered on Mr. Hoar reverted to the action taken several weeks ago on the paragraph putting a duty of 40 per cent. on spectacles, eye-glasses and opera glasses, and read a speech in recommendation of the men engaged in that industry in Massachusetts and other states His motion to increase the rate of duty to 50 per cent. was defeated Yeas, 21; nays 30

Then the wool schedule was taken up, and Mr. Quay began to read the seventh installment of the speech which he started to make on April 14 last As he had provided himself with a volume of 157 printed pages for the day, he appeared to be in no hurry to reduce the bulk of that provision and yielded the floor willingly to Senators McMillin, Pettigrew Power and Peffer who severally addressed the senate in favor of the wool growers He also allowed a motion to be made by Mr Mitchell to postpone the bill indefinitely, which motion was defeated Yeas, 22, nays, 33.

The senate adjourned at 6 p. m.

HOUSE

The house to-day returned to a consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, after spending two hours, in passing a bill to aid in the establishment of a national home for aged and infirm colored persons in the district of Columbia.

The bill appropriated $100,000 of the $500,000 in the treasury belonging to the estates of deceased colored soldiers to build a home on the site already secured by the colored people of the district. It was agreed that the institution should never become a charge upon the treasury of the United States and that the expenses of the home should be charged to the revenue of the district.

In the course of the afternoon twenty-seven pages of the Indian bill were passed over in committee of the whole The committee had cut out the appropriation for the expenses of the Indian commission appointed under the authority of the act of 1869, practically legislating it out of existence

Mr. Cannon offered an amendment to restore the appropriation for expenses, but after an argument of an hour the amendment was defeated Yeas, 69, nays, 112.

The house adjourned at 5:10 p. m.

A Smallpox Scare.

CHICAGO, June 13.—There was a smallpox scare yesterday among the members and attaches of the board of trade. Theodore Nevins, an old man who has been guarding the public gallery for years, had been sick for several days, but returned to his post yesterday. The appearance of his face aroused suspicions, and a physician diagnosed his case as smallpox. He was removed to the pest house.

The general's address was an able and eloquent one and he was frequently interrupted by vociferous applause. At 2:30 the graduating and furlough classes left for New York.

Was Crazy with Headache.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Mrs. Mollie Blaser, 28 years old, living at 812 Geyer avenue, attempted to commit suicide at 10 a. m. yesterday by jumping into the river at the foot of Termination street. She was rescued by John Maloney, who was washing clothes in the river near where she jumped in. She was taken to the home of a relative named Sebastian Wetzel, who lives at 123 East Marceau street. She stated that she was suffering from headache, and did not know what she was dong.

On a Technicality.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 13.—In the case of ex-Banker John Reid, of Liberty, charged with fraud in receiving deposits after he knew the Western Trust and Savings association was insolvent, Judge Broaddus, in the circuit court at that city yesterday, decided that a "trust association" is not a bank, and therefore cannot be prosecuted under the state banking laws. The case will be taken to the supreme court.

Burned to Death in a Jewish Tenement.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—A three-story Jewish tenement house at 211 North Second street, which was occupied by a half dozen families, was gutted by the explosion of an oil stove yesterday. Two-year-old Rebecca King was burned to death and an infant sister of the victim was probably fatally burned. The loss will be slight.

Funeral of the Late Cyrus W. Field.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Rev. Dr. Arthur Brooks officiated at the funeral services of the late Cyrus W. Field at the Church of the Incarnation yesterday morning. At 10:40 a. m. a special train conveyed the body and the members of the family to North Adams, Mass., where the interment took place yesterday afternoon.

Don't Like the Compromise.

BELLAIRE, O., June 13.—It seems to be the feeling of the coal miners in eastern Ohio that the price, sixty cents, will not be accepted by them and that they will hold out for the 70 cents. They are better fixed to live now than they were four weeks ago and more determined than ever.

AP CHARLEY.

A BAY KNIGHT ON HOOFS.

He Saved His Master's Little Daughter From the Attacks of a Savage Cur.

The bay Jack is one of a dozen hunters which Mr. James B. Dill keeps in his stable at his home on Harrison street, Orange. His fad is breeding hunters. The other morning Mr. Dill was standing just inside the stable door talking to his groom and had Jack's bridle in his hand

Suddenly he heard a scream and recognized the voice as that of his little daughter. Jack, the bay hunter, heard it, too, and he must have recognized it, for quicker than it takes to tell and before Mr. Dill realized what had happened, Jack had jerked the bridle from Mr. Dill's hand, backed out of the stable and was running across the stable yard. Mr. Dill followed, and what he saw was calculated to make him follow pretty rapidly His little daughter was being attacked by a dog—a big, ugly, yellow cur that did not belong around the place. She had seen her father return from his ride and had started from the house to the stable to meet him, as was her custom. The strange dog had sprung at her. Its teeth were tearing her dress, and she was vainly struggling to release herself.

What Mr. Dill saw Jack, the bay hunter, saw, too, and he must have had the same appreciation of the little girl's danger that the father had. Running until he reached the little girl and the dog, he reared up on his hind legs and then brought his fore feet down with crushing force on the vicious cur. The dog released its hold on the girl's clothing and fell, but Jack had not finished his work. Turning just as the dog was about to rise again, he let fly his hind legs and gave the cur a kick that landed it in a heap against a stone fence full 10 feet away. Then Jack's work was done, and he waited for Mr. Dill to come up.

Mr. Dill found that his little daughter was not injured, though badly frightened Then he went over and took a look at the dog. It was dead. Then he went over to his bay hunter, Jack, gave him an affectionate slap or two and placed his little daughter on Jack's back. The hunter seemed to appreciate the compliment and neighed with delight as he started for the stable, where Mr. Dill told the groom to give him "the best in the house and plenty of it."—New York World.

The Careers Before Them Are Not In All Cases Very Desirable.

There are lads now employed as pages in the house and senate who have undoubtedly embarked on careers which will revolve about the huge marble building on Capitol hill. Some one of them may live to step into the shoes of Captain Bassett, for instance, the aged and dignified assistant doorkeeper of the senate, who began his services in the upper chamber over 60 years ago and is apparently good for several years more. Some of them may become plain, ordinary, everyday doorkeepers of the house or senate.

There is one man watching a senate door these days who has occupied that one position for 14 years. For years before he began this work he was similarly employed in the house of representatives. The pay of a doorkeeper is not very large, and the distinction which attaches to the place is absolutely nil. The work is not arduous, however, and the man who fulfills it does not have to use either his hands or his brains to any extent—a fact which seems to have had weight with some of the doorkeepers.

If the parents of the lads who are now running about the capitol at the beck and nod of senators and representatives were to be guided by the experience of persons who have held these positions, they might display less anxiety to confide their offspring to an undesirable [illegible]—Cor. New York Times.

Setting Type by Wire.

Donald Murry, a newspaper man of Sydney, has invented and patented a device by means of which an operator in New York, with a keyboard before him like that of an ordinary typewriter, can not only produce typewritten copy in New Orleans, but, it is claimed, can operate a typesetting machine here and deliver his matter thus in lead ready for the forms. Not only that, but the same operator, by using a number of telegraph lines, can set up the same copy simultaneously in a dozen different places. In this operation any ordinary currents are used, such as are capable of being relayed and are subject to all conditions of ordinary telegraphy. The work can be done with the same speed as an ordinary typewriter is operated and dispenses with all clockwork mechanism, synchronously moving type wheels and other cumbrous devices. It is said to be capable of manipulating some 80 different characters.—Press and Printer.

Cordite Versus Gunpowder.

The days of gunpowder as a charge for naval guns are numbered, as some experiments just concluded at the government proof butts, Woolwich, appear to prove a decided superiority for cordite. A 6 inch quick firing gun was loaded with 29 pounds 12 ounces of the ordinary black gunpowder and yielded a velocity of 1,890 feet per second, with a pressure strain on the gun of 15 tons per square inch. The same gun was charged with 14 pounds 3 ounces of cordite and gave a velocity of 2,274 feet per second and a pressure of 15.2 tons. More important still, after 250 rounds had been fired, there were no signs of erosion.—London Telegraph.

Buried In a Ghoul Proof Grave.

Mrs. G. F. Ronton, wife of a West Newton pioneer, was buried at that place a few days ago. She was 58 years of age and was an exceedingly large woman, weighing 552 pounds. This necessitated a [illegible] 6 feet long, 28 inches wide and 19 inches deep. A few weeks ago an attempt was made to rob a grave at West Newton, near the lot in which Mrs. Ronton was buried, and this led the relatives of Mrs. Ronton to have a ghoul proof grave vault of iron made.—Indianapolis Journal.

The Dead Ruler's Choice for the Position

MAY ENCOUNTER SOME OPPOSITION

Before He is Firmly Seated on His Father's Throne—His Uncle, Muley Ismael, May Cause Trouble—Other Nations Interested.

LONDON, June 13.—A Tangier dispatch to the Times says: A steamer from along the coast has arrived here and reports that all was quiet at the various places at which she stopped. Abdul Aziz has been acknowledged as sultan and is collecting forces at Rabat to go to Fez. Little or no opposition to his succession to the throne is expected there. Everyone is preparing for the great religious festival to-morrow. Europeans continue to enjoy absolute security as to life and property.

A news agency dispatch reports that "according to the certificate of the doctors who attended him the cause of the Sultan's death was dysentery. He was conscious to the last, and expressed the desire that Abdulla Aziz should succeed him. The ministers and officers of the army have sworn allegiance to Abdulla Aziz, who is staying at Rabat. The troops at Casabianca have accepted the new sovereign, but the allegiance of the troops at Rabat is doubtful.

Will Have to Defend His Throne with His Sword.

LONDON, June 13.—The news of the sending of a French fleet to Morocco and of the preparations making to reinforce it, if necessary, is attracting considerable attention here. News from Morocco is far from reassuring, and civil war there is anticipated. Conflicting reports are still in circulation in regard to the death of the sultan of Morocco, and the popular opinion is that Sultan Abdul Azazi will have to defend his throne with the sword.

Another Richmond in the Field.

TANGIER, June 13.—The body of the late Sultan Muley Hassan has been sent, under military escort, to Rabat for burial. The succession of his younger son, Abdul Azazi, has been accepted at Casablanca, but a hostile feeling prevails at Fez, where Muley Ismael, a brother of the dead sultan, has been acting as the sultan. Ismael is a popular favorite and may make trouble. The Spanish cruiser Conde Venito has arrived here.

CONGRESSMAN BLAND'S SON,

Dangerously Ill at a Hospital, Visited by His Father.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Hon. R. P. Bland arrived in the city Monday evening, having been called here by the serious illness of his 15-year-old son, Theodore. The young man has been attending Christian Brothers' college during the last two years. He was stricken down with typhoid fever ten days ago and sent to the Mullanphy hospital. His condition was serious enough to fill his father with great anxiety, and he left Washington Sunday, arriving here on an evening train and stopping at the Laclede. He spent the entire forenoon yesterday at his son's bedside. The young man is thought to be better now, but his condition is still serious.

A Princely Gift.

CHICAGO, June 13.—William Deering, the reaper manufacturer of this city, has given $50,000 to found a professorship in the Medical school of the Northwestern university. The announcement was made yesterday at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the university. The donor gave the money partly as a mark of honor to his friend, Dr. N. S. Davis, a pioneer physician of Chicago.

THE PRESIDENT SICK.

It is Only a Slight Stomach Disorder,

BUT IT DOESN'T YIELD TO TREATMENT,

And is Seriously Aggravated by the Prevailing Warm Weather—A Prisoner in the Hands of Dr. O'Reilly—All Work Prohibited.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The excessively hot weather has aggravated the slight stomach disorder with which the president has been annoyed from time to time during the past three weeks until to-day, by the advice of Surgeon O'Reilly, of the army, the president denied himself to all visiters except to the members of his cabinet.

The president was first affected immediately after attending the Decoration day ceremonies at Arlington. Secretary Gresham, who was with him at the time, being similarly attacked. The complaint in each case responded readily to simple remedies, but the day after Mrs. Cleveland went away last week, the president had a recurrence of the trouble, and was compelled several days ago to call in Dr. O'Reilly, as he expected to go down the river on Friday afternoon for another cruise on a lighthouse tender. The doctor advised him not to go until the disorder was entirely checked, and since that time, though the president's health has grown no worse, the prevailing high temperature has been very debilitating, and the doctor has now insisted upon the temporary abandonment of the enormous amount of tedious detail work with which Mr. Cleveland is always busied, and until he is perfectly well the patient, under the doctor's orders, must deny himself to the numerous visitors who absorb a large part of his time, frequently upon the most trivial matters.

Dr. O'Reilly has not seen his patient more than once a day, and says there is no occasion to call oftener, and there is no doubt that the present treatment is proving efficacious.

Unless the president is much improved during the next few days, however, it is very likely that he will go away from Washington on a brief visit to Gray Gables in order to recuperate, and it is thought that in such an event he will make use of the dispatch boat Dolphin, which now lies at the navy yard ready to sail at a few hours' notice.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

(First Session.)

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—If any progress was made to-day in the direction of a final vote on the tariff bill, it must have been in private consultations such as those which yesterday removed all obstructions from the path of the cotton schedule. In the public open session there was not a step of progress made. During the greater part of the day, the seats of senators were mostly vacant; the chamber presented a deserted appearance: there were only a few listless spectators in the galleries; the atmosphere was oppressively hot and stifling; and no one made a pretence even of taking the least interest in any of the half dozen bills read to the senate. It was, on the whole, the most tedious, wearisome day that has passed since the tariff bill was taken up in the senate ten weeks ago.

Before the wool schedule was entered on Mr. Hoar reverted to the action taken several weeks ago on the paragraph putting a duty of 40 per cent on spectacles, eye-glasses and opera glasses, and read a speech in recommendation of the men engaged in that industry in Massachusetts and other states. His motion to increase the rate of duty to 50 per cent. was defeated: Yeas, 21; nays, 30.

Then the wool schedule was taken up, and Mr. Quay began to read the seventh installment of the speech which he started to make on April 14 last. As he had provided himself with a volume of 157 printed pages for the day, he appeared to be in no hurry to reduce the bulk of that provision and yielded the floor willingly to Senators McMillin, Pettigrew, Power and Peffer, who severally addressed the senate in favor of the wool growers. He also allowed a motion to be made by Mr. Mitchell to postpone the bill indefinitely, which motion was defeated: Yeas, 22, nays, 33.

The senate adjourned at 6 p. m.

HOUSE.

The house to-day returned to a consideration of the Indian appropriation bill, after spending two hours in passing a bill to rid in the establishment of a national home for aged and infirm colored persons in the district of Columbia.

The bill appropriated $100,000 of the $500,000 in the treasury belonging to the estates of deceased colored soldiers to build a home on the site already secured by the colored people of the district. It was agreed that the institution should never become a charge upon the treasury of the United States and that the expenses of the home should be charged to the revenue of the district.

In the course of the afternoon twenty-seven pages of the Indian bill were passed over in committee of the whole. The committee had cut out the appropriation for the expenses of the Indian commission, appointed under the authority of the act of 1869, practically legislating it out of existence.

Mr. Cannon offered an amendment to restore the appropriation for expenses, but, after an argument of an hour, the amendment was defeated: Yeas, 69; nays, 112.

The house adjourned at 5:10 p. m.

A Smallpox Scare.

CHICAGO, June 13.—There was a smallpox scare yesterday among the members and attaches of the board of trade. Theodore Nevins, an old man who has been guarding the public gallery for years, had been sick for several days, but returned to his post yesterday. The appearance of his face aroused suspicions, and a physician diagnosed his case as smallpox. He was removed to the pest house.

Graduating Exercises at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 13.—The graduating exercises of the class of '94 was witnessed here yesterday by an immense throng of people.

Col. Ernest introduced Gen. John C. Black, M. C., to members of the board of visitors, who delivered the address to the graduating class.

Was Crazy with Headache.

ST. LOUIS, June 13.—Mrs. Mollie Blaser, 28 years old, living at 812 Geyer avenue, attempted to commit suicide at 10 a. m. yesterday by jumping into the river at the foot of Termination street. She was rescued by John Maloney, who was washing clothes in the river near where she jumped in. She was taken to the home of a relative named Sebastian Wetzel, who lives at 122 East Marceau street. She stated that she was suffering from headache, and did not know what she was dong.

On a Technicality.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 13.—In the case of ex-Banker John Reid, of Liberty, charged with fraud in receiving deposits after he knew the Western Trust and Savings association was insolvent, Judge Broaddus, in the circuit court at that city yesterday, decided that a "trust association" is not a bank, and therefore cannot be prosecuted under the state banking laws. The case will be taken to the supreme court.

Burned to Death in a Jewish Tenement.

PHILADELPHIA, June 13.—A three-story Jewish tenement house at 211 North Second street, which was occupied by a half dozen families, was gutted by the explosion of an oil stove yesterday. Two-year-old Rebecca King was burned to death and an infant sister of the victim was probably fatally burned. The loss will be slight.

Funeral of the Late Cyrus W. Field.

NEW YORK, June 13.—Rev. Dr. Arthur Brooks officiated at the funeral services of the late Cyrus W. Field at the Church of the Incarnation yesterday morning. At 10:40 a. m. a special train conveyed the body and the members of the family to North Adams, Mass., where the interment took place yesterday afternoon.

Don't Like the Compromise.

BELLAIRE, O., June 13.—It seems to be the feeling of the coal miners in eastern Ohio that the price, sixty cents, will not be accepted by them and that they will hold out for the 70 cents. They are better fixed to live now than they were four weeks ago and more determined than ever.

A BAY KNIGHT ON HOOFS.

He Saved His Master's Little Daughter From the Attacks of a Savage Cur.

The bay Jack is one of a dozen hunters which Mr. James B. Dill keeps in his stable at his home on Harrison street, Orange. His [illegible] is breaking hunter. The other morning Mr. Dill was standing [illegible] inside the stable door talking to his groom and [illegible] Jack's bridle [illegible]

Suddenly he heard a scream and recognized the voice as that of his little daughter. Jack, the bay hunter, heard it too, and he must have recognized it, for quicker than it takes to tell and [illegible] Mr. Dill [illegible] Jack had [illegible] from Mr. Dill's hand, [illegible] the stable and was running across the stable yard. Mr. Dill followed, and what he saw was calculated to make him follow pretty rapidly. His little daughter was being attacked by a dog—a big, ugly yellow cur that did not belong around the place. She had seen her father return from his ride and had started from the house to the stable to meet him, as was her custom. The strange dog had sprung at her. Its teeth were tearing her dress and she was vainly struggling to release herself.

What Mr. Dill saw Jack, the bay hunter, saw, too, and he must have had the same appreciation of the little girl's danger that the father had. Running until he reached the little girl and the dog he reared up on his hind legs and then brought his fore feet down with crushing force on the vicious cur. The dog released its hold on the girl's clothing and fell, but Jack had not finished his work. Turning just as the dog was about to rise again, he let fly his hind legs and gave the cur a kick that landed it in a heap against a stone fence full ten feet away. Then Jack's work was done and he waited for Mr. Dill to come up.

Mr. Dill found that his little daughter was not injured, though badly frightened. Then he went over and took a look at the dog. It was dead. Then he went over to his bay hunter, Jack, gave him an affectionate slap or two and placed his little daughter on Jack's back. The hunter seemed to appreciate the compliment and neighed with delight as he started for the stable, where Mr. Dill told the groom to give him "the best in the house and plenty of it."—New York World.

PAGES IN CONGRESS.

The Careers Before Them Are Not In All Cases Very Desirable.

There are lads now employed as pages in the house and senate who have undoubtedly embarked on careers which will revolve about the huge marble building on Capitol hill. Some one of them may live to step into the shoes of Captain Bassett, for instance, the aged and dignified assistant doorkeeper of the senate, who began his services in the upper chamber over 60 years ago and is apparently good for several years more. Some of them may become plain, ordinary, everyday doorkeepers of the house or senate.

There is one man watching a senate door these days who has occupied that one position for 14 years. For years before he began this work he was similarly employed in the house of representatives. The pay of a doorkeeper is not very large, and the distinction which attaches to the place is absolutely nil. The work is not arduous, however, and the man who fulfills it does not have to use either his hands or his [illegible] to any extent—a fact which [illegible] to have [illegible] weight with some of the doorkeepers.

If the parents of the lads who are now running about the capitol at the [illegible] and call of senators and representatives were told [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] anxiety to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] New York Times.

Setting Type by Wire.

Donald Murray, a newspaper man of Sydney, [illegible] has invented and patented a device by means of which an operator in New York, with a keyboard before him like that of an ordinary typewriter, can not only produce typewritten copy in New Orleans, but, it is claimed, can operate a typesetting machine here to deliver his matter thus in lead ready for the forms. Not only that, but the same operator, by using a number of telegraph lines, can set up the same copy simultaneously in a dozen different places. In this operation any ordinary currents are used, such as are capable of being relayed and are subject to all conditions of ordinary telegraphy. The work can be done with the same speed as an ordinary typewriter is operated and dispenses with all clockwork mechanism, synchronously moving type wheels and other cumbrous devices. It is said to be capable of manipulating some 80 different characters.—Press and Printer.

Cordite Versus Gunpowder.

The days of gunpowder as a charge for naval guns are numbered, as some experiments just concluded at the government proof butts, Woolwich, appear to prove a decided superiority for cordite. A 6 inch quick firing gun was loaded with 29 pounds 12 ounces of ordinary black gunpowder and gave a velocity of 1,880 feet per second with a pressure strain on the gun of 15 [illegible] per square inch. The same gun charged with 14 pounds [illegible] of cordite gave a velocity of 2,274 feet per second and a pressure of 15.2 tons. [illegible] still [illegible] no signs [illegible]
